LIFE SAVED BY

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Seven years ago, my wife had a severe attack of lung trouble which the physicians pronounced consumption.

The cough was extremely distressing, especially at night, and was frequently attended with the spitting of blood.

The doctors being unable to help her,

I induced her to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was surprised at the great relief it gave. Before using one whole bottle, she was cured, so that now she is quite strong and healthy. That this medicine saved my wife's life, I have not the least doubt."—K. MORRIS, Memphis, Tenn.

Things that Follow.

The grip is bad enough of itself, making life a burden for the time, but is more to be dreaded because of the things that follow it. These things are such as Nervous Prostration, Weakness, a lingering Cough, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Consumption. Thousands are dying every year from diseases that follow the Grippe. There is absolutely no need that any one should have serious trouble with the Grippe. Dr.

Kin's Royal Germetuer will cure it, taking it out of the system root and branch. Pleasant to take as lemonade.

She Was No Politician.

"Did you see all those dreadful charges the papers make against you?"

said the politician's wife.

"I did," was the reply. "What am

I going to do about it?"

"Why," she answered, almost sobbing, "I'd make that horrid editor prove every word of them, so I would."

The Groom—Now, I've got a great scheme. If we quarrel pretty openly, people will never know we are just married.

The Bride—Oh, Charlie, I couldn't do such a thing on the very day we're married. You must wait a little while.

"Come, don't be silly. It won't mean anything to us, and they'll think we've been married a long time."

"I simply can't do it, dear."

"Oh, yes, you can. Call me a brute or something. They're looking at us now and smiling."

"If you really loved me you wouldn't ask me to do such a thing."

"Of course, if you want everybody to know, I dare say I can stand it."

"It's horrid of you to talk that way, and on our wedding day, too."

"That's right, be mean about it and make a goose of yourself."

"You're a hateful thing and I wish

I'd never married you—I do! I've a good mind to go straight back home."

Pellison's Little Adventure.

Pellison was frightfully ugly. One day as he was walking down the street a beautiful lady took him by the hand and conducted him into a house close by. Dazzled by the lady's charms, and flattering himself that this adventure could not possibly entail any unpleasant consequences, he had not the strength to offer any resistance.

His fair captor introduced him to the master of the house, saying:

"Lin for line, exactly like this,"

whereon she took her departure.

Pellison, on recovering from his astonishment, demanded an explanation. The master of the house, after sundry apologies, confessed that he was a painter.

"I have undertaken," he added, "to
